CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER NAMED AT HEART HOSPITAL OF NEW MEXICO

October 1, 2007 - Albuquerque, New Mexico: Heart Hospital of New Mexico announces the promotion of Terry Odom to the position of chief operating officer and vice president, clinical services. Ms. Odom served as V.P. Clinical Services at HHNM since 2002, and as interim CEO since 2006. “I believe that everyone comes to work to do their best job. It’s my responsibility to assure they have the tools they need to accomplish this goal,” said Ms. Odom.

With over 29 years of healthcare experience in both clinical and administrative roles, Ms. Odom brings expertise in clinical program management, organizational management, quality improvement, strategic planning, and professional staff development. Prior to joining the Heart Hospital of New Mexico she was employed as a senior consultant with Cardinal Healthcare. She has held education, director and senior administrative positions including chief nursing officer.

A native New Mexican, Ms. Odom received her master’s degree in business at California Pacific University and an undergraduate degree in nursing from the University of New Mexico. She is a member of the American College of Healthcare Executives, American College of Cardiology, American Organization of Nurse Executives and the Association of Perioperative Nurses.

Located on an 8-acre campus near downtown Albuquerque, the Heart Hospital of New Mexico is an entire medical facility dedicated to fighting heart disease.
